PERSONAL LIBERTY

A few months ago the lady editor of the city papers was guilty of the following statement: "The interference with the saloon is to interfere with the legitimate liberties of the individual." If this be true, the "Liberty" is a very odd name for the Reform League is wholly in the wrong.
Under no circumstances are we justified in interfering with the legiti-mate liberties of any individual.

This cry, like many others, that have been raised by the liquor interests, is not new. It has been heard whenever any attempt has been made to legislate for the good of mankind.
It was heard when slavery was abolished; when laws prohibiting child-labor were introduced; when factory acts were passed. It will continue to be heard whenever laws for social betterment press hard on the individual desires of any individual.

Those who raise this cry mean by "personal liberty" the right to do as they please; to be free from any restriction; to direct their lives unfettered by any social or governmental regulation. In philosophical politics, this conception appears as anarchy, which is interpreted by Kropotkin and others, is the perfectly unfettered self-government of the individual. In economics, this is the doctrine of "laissez-faire" or "hands off." But the direct and almost the necessary result of such a policy was the cruelty and injustice that made imperative the social legislation of modern times. Child labor, improper machinery, fire-trap factories, unreasonable hours of labor, inadequate wages, were all the result of this conception of personal liberty. In fact, it would not be difficult, did space permit, to show that all the social injustice and social abuse grow out of the fact that those guilty of them interpret liberty as the right to do what they desire without regard for the rights of others.

When the interests of individuals conflict, the battle goes to the strongest.

We are coming today to recognize that liberty and justice are not personal, but social, and that a social conception, not a social conception as well. Personality is a social product, resulting from the reaction of the individual to social influences.
The doctrine of liberty must be stated in harmony with this idea of personality. If all matters that concern the individual are left to the individual desire may be supreme. Paternalism can never be carried to the extent that it interferes with the exercise of this right. But the right of the individual is limited by the rights of others with whom he lives. A man may have the right to form his own habits, but when his habits are such that they interfere with the undisputed right of children to be well-born, the right of the individual to form such a habit ceases. I have a right to swing my arms in any way that I please, until they interfere with someone that has an equal right with myself to the same space. Then my right ceases. My rights are limited not by my desire and inclinations but by their effect upon social well-being.

It is a well recognized fact that society is constantly interfering with the individual. No man is allowed to place a fire-trap building in a congested area. No man may build a slaughter house or a powder mill where it will be a nuisance to others, even though he has a clear title to the property on which it is built.
No man may make his own property a breeding place of disease. And no man has a right to sell that which when used by others, leaves behind it such a trail of suffering and crime as do intoxicating liquors.

There is no such thing in the world as absolute liberty. Only Adam had the right to do as he pleased. He lost that right as he appeared. Personal liberty is the freedom of thought and speech. It is the law of the jungle.

It has no place in human society, civilized or uncivilized. It is to us no matter of surprise that the liquor fraternity make use of the term. When men cease to treat with the air of supreme selfishness and begin to regard the sacred rights of others they find no place in their vocabulary for personal liberty. The men who preach about personal liberty are generally a class of selfish, intemperate citizens, who forever demand for themselves what they are unwilling to concede to those depending on them. They demand "personal liberty" to make swine of themselves while their children have the "liberty" to pick up coal on the railroads and carry it home in bags to keep them from freezing; their wives have "liberty" to scrub their lives away at the wash tub to keep the family from starvation. They demand this "liberty" to sicken the hard earned dollar from their wives and spend it on grogs; the "liberty" to compel their family of helpless children to grow up in ignorance, breathe the atmosphere of crime; live in dirt, dress in rags, and eat salt horse and sour bread. These are the valiant knights of "personal liberty" who set themselves first, last and always against prohibition, or any other law that by wholesome restraint seeks the good of all.

—F. W. Patterson.

ANNUAL CONSUMPTION OF LIQ-UOR AND SOMETHING
ABOUT WHAT IT MEANS

In 1913 there was $12,542,000 worth of liquor consumed in Alberta.
The value of Alberta's wheat crop falls short of this amount by over one million dollars.
Put these figures together and they afford a true explanation of the chief reason why many of us who work hard are poor and making no headway financially.

It is difficult to get exact figures, but it is quite within the truth to say that if the liquor bill in Alberta were "cut out" the saving which would result to the people in one year would be enough to pay the local improvement and school taxes of the province for six years at the present rates. Such a step would help everybody but would help the man who spends his money for the strong drink the most of all. Would not that be a good way to get these taxes paid?

If the money wasted on liquors in the Wetaskiwin district were applied to road building, in a few years we would have first-class gravel roads with deep ditches on every line, and cross line in the whole electoral district. This would help both the business man and the farmer, would it not?

In other places where prohibition has been tried out, the public debts have been disappearing like the morning mist and an era of prosperity showered in which has amazed and gratified everybody concerned. This same might reasonably be expected in Alberta.

The temperance people of this province are proposing no mere experiment. Let us save the money lost on drink that our boys and girls
may have a better chance in life.
Vote Prosperity for Alberta on
July 21.

THE THING TO DO

Now go and spend some money tainted by pure white lead and linseed oil, and see your residence is painted according to the rules of Hoyle. Your wife may have a new spring mattress, imported and superbly smart, with bands and lugs and doodads or it, a triumph of the hatsmith's art; and you yourself may have new mantel, glass, rug that might adopt a line, suggesting that you're a king, suggesting that you've received the payment for those gold-bricks you sold this spring your sons and daughters may be wearing a lot of togs that can't be beat and you'll imagine folks declaring that you abide in Easy street Purvis's. Let us save the money lost
on drink that our boys and girls
may have a better chance in life.
Vote Prosperity for Alberta on
July 21.

With bogus pride his chest is swell-day, but the condition of his dwelling gives him all his tribe away.
Go, get a brush that's good, and a dusky, a can of paint—I'll lend you mine—and paint your house a nice color; it nobby, and help to make the village shine. Go, demonstrate that you're a dandy at boasting up the painter's trade, and men will say you are a dandy and pat you on the shoulder blade—Wait Mason.

When boiled and unboiled eggs get mixed, spin them and the boiled ones will spin round quite as fast as the ones which have not been cooked will hardly spin around once.

Former Premier, Province of Alberta

WHO POISONED MY DOG?

Somebody poisoned my dog today.
Though he never did anyone ill and so he's through with his candle.

And his wagging tail is still.
No more shall I walk in the fields with him.
Along at my side to jog
And I don't care if my eyes are dim
Somebody poisoned my dog!

He was homely, I know, as a dog could be,
And only a mongrel, too;
But I loved the old fellow and his level me.

As people and dogs may do, Nothing on earth could disturb his trust.
Or his love and his faith befug.
And now he lies here at my feet in the dust—
Somebody poisoned my dog!

He crawled to my side and licked my hand,
And then with a gasp he died;
And though some people can't understand—

I patted his head and cried:
For it isn't funny to lose a friend
From off this earthly sod;
But he was loyal unto the end—
Somebody poisoned my dog!

I wonder how anyone could have done
This poor little fellow harm;
But here he lies—his race is run—
Though his body's still soft and warm.

My life is lived on a peaceful plan,
My pace is a quiet jog;
But I wish I could find the snake of a man
Who poisoned my little dog.—Ex.

Not many cases are known of where an eagle with provocation has tak-ed a full grown man, but such was the experience of John P. Turnbull, of Buxter Creek, on Sunday afternoon last. He was returning home along the road when about thirty feet in front of him was a "bald agle eating a rabbit. The eagle evidently paid no attention until Mr.
Turnbull cut within about twenty feet, when it suddenly made a vicious attack on him. The bird sunk his talons right through the right wrist of Mr. Turnbull. Mr. Turnbull caught the other foot of the bird with his left hand, bent over him on the ground and crushed this life out with his knee. The eagle was unable to get the talons out of his arm until after life was extinct in the bird which was several minutes. Mr.
Turnbull's arm is badly swollen as a result of the wound, but no serious result is anticipated.

Listen to this from Wainwright, and then reason out why Ponoka is so far behind. There is good hope for something being done by another fall—"When the doors of the Wainwright skating and curling rink were closed recently, the most successful year of its existence was brought to a conclusion, fully proving itself, as far as a winter sport was concerned, to be a worthy asset to the town. The revenue for the year, acquired from the skating and curling privileges, amount to over $750, which, it is expected, will leave a goodly balance to be placed in the town's treasury following the deduc-tion of expenses for the year."

MAIL ORDER HOUSE FAILURE

Many of our farmers, especially in the more progressive communities in the west, are beginning to realize that their true interests are best served when they support their own country towns. They have learned to resist the temptation of mail order catalogues and to give their cash business instead to their own local stores. Not only their own experience, but more especially the experience of brother farmers in this United States, has taught them that the inevitable outcome of sending their cash orders away to mail order houses is the degeneration of their own country towns, and the decrease in value of their own farm property. Perhaps, to the fact that our farmers are beginning to think along these lines, is due the recent failure of Christie-Grant Company, Limited, Winnipeg, a mail order house that leapt like a flame into prominence for a brief moment. We understand that 222 creditors attended the general meeting held some little time back, and even this did not represent the total number of creditors. It appears that it is the intention of the majority of creditors, who were in a fair way to lose large sums of money over the venture, to continue the business until their accounts were paid. The spring catalogue, which has been mailed out to a very large extent, is expected to bring in business that will help to liquidate their losses.

If farmers are beginning to learn the lesson that they must support their country towns in order to advance their own best interests, it is of very great importance that retail merchants should take immediate steps to offer to farmers a more efficient service than the best has hitherto offered. If the country merchant is supported by the farmers' business as well as the farmer's credit business, there is no reason why he should not produce a service equal to the best that any mail order house can offer, both as regards the price and quality of his goods.

(From The Canadian)

Adelle Shaddox, a girl three and a half years old, of the Manford district, eight miles northwest of Bawell, died at her parents' home, the result of a peculiar accident yesterday morning. It seems that she could, with her sister, in playing in the yard, had in some manner fallen into a water tank, the top of which is said to be three feet from the ground, and ten minutes layed before the sister had told her mother and the body of the child recovered. For some 20 minutes afterwards resuscitation methods were vigorously carried out, which, however, proved unsuccessful.

Wm. F. Rammer and Peter Ramsay, of New Norway have purchased a 30-00 Hunsley Oil Pull tractor, and together with plows Mr. Ramsay already had, expect to do much breaking this season. John P. Johnson, also of New Norway, has purchased a 15-00 Hunsley tractor, and they expect to do much breaking and plowing this season.

SPRING IS GIVEN THREE YEARS IN THE PENITENTIARY

Edmonton, May 13.—Three years in the penitentiary was the sentence passed by Mr. Justice Giesbrecht on Wm. H. Springer, ex-convict of distinction, when the criminal justices were resumed this morning.

The accused made a strong appeal for clemency for the accused. In addressing the jury, Judge Giesbrecht said that the accused was in a very important position looking after the moral welfare of the community and had had a reputation of great trust.

"This trust you have betrayed," said the judge, "and instead of endeavoring to suppress crime you have become a partner in it. To my mind you have committed a far more serious offense than that for which McMillan and Peterson were sentenced." The judge said he was disposed to give Springer the full penalty of seven years, but took into account the jury's recommendation for mercy.

TOTAL OF 1,251 PASSENGERS ON THE LUSITANIA

London, May 8.—A revised list of the passengers of the Lusitania, the ill-fated Cunard liner, made public by the line tonight, showed there were 1,251 passengers in all on board. The crew numbered between 700 and 800, making a total of more than 2,000 on the steamer. The list made public showed the various nationalities of the passengers as follows: First Cabin—Great Britain 179; United States 106; Greece 3; Sweden 1; Mexico 1; Switzerland 1. Second Cabin—Great Britain 521; United States 65; Russia 45; Belgium 1; Holland 3; France 5; Italy 1; unknown 2. Third Cabin—England 24; Ireland 8; Scotland 12; Russia 45; United States 17; Persia 18; Greece 3; Finland 1; Scandinavia 4; Mexico 1.

EVERY MAN IS NEEDED

NOW TO FACE THE FOE

Northern France, Thursday (by courier to London).—The correspondents of all British papers here agree that we are on the eve of the most tremendous German attack yet along the whole line from the coast to La Bassée. A certain officer who suggested to me that the enemy had a million troops massed in the conquered part of Belgium was not over estimating. There is every sign that huge artillery, more poisonous gases and heedlessness of German life will herald this extreme effort to reach the coast. It is reported here behind the British lines that the Kaiser himself is to direct the assault.

Some officers regard the effort as a sign of desperation which covers weakness, others are not nearly so confident. So far we are not fighting man and man. They say we must be prepared for the absolute elimination of any international war code for some terribly inhuman surprise. To be prepared we need every man we have in the field, that is why the Canadian division, though resting on its well-earned laurels, has again been called into action.

GERMAN SETTLER

IS FOUND GUILTY

Calgary, May 10.—Fritz Thaden, a German settler of the Hunsar colony was this morning found guilty of a charge of aiding and abetting, by an officer in the German army, by sending him boxes containing: arms, after war between Britain and Germany has been declared. Mr. Justice Walsh, who delivered judgment found him not guilty of aiding one Krull, a German reservist to return to Germany. In sentencing, sentence until Friday May 21, the judge said that he did so because he desired that the man should be punished for the offence he committed and for that alone and that he felt so strongly over the unbreakable infamy of the prisoner's fellow countrymen in aiding the Lusitania that he thought he should not sentence him there and then.

"If an administrator, British justice in a British court," said his lordship, "and I do not want a suspicion of revenge for that awful affair to be connected with the sentence I shall give this man."

TWO CANADIANS

ARE CRUCIFIED

London, May 7.—Graham Stewart, Unionist member for the Wirral division of Cheshire, speaking at Liverpool today, said he was greatly informed that the Germans had caught two Canadians and crucified them. The Canadians had got to know of it, and that was one of the reasons why they fled the overwhelming attack of the army with such magnificent and ingenious valor. The death of a man by such methods, said Mr. Stewart, would cost the Germans many thousands of men, because Canada would be stirred to the utmost to avenge the brutal death to death. They could shoot brutally but had kept the most painful tradition of crucifying their countrymen German across his land.

General News

"It is the motto of a country that never surrenders to defeat that out. How can you give more comfort to the German than by being crucified? She can have but one opinion of our country after this. Germany is not averse to indulgence as to what is happening in Canada, she is watching the country. Do you not see that if a Dominion of action is held it will be a great comfort to Germany? God forbid that that cruel and heartless people who are the enemy of the human race, should be given the least comfort or support from us."—Dr. Blund at Winnipeg meeting.

At the meeting of the directors of the agricultural society on Wednesday afternoon it was decided to hold a Standing Field Conference this year for wheat, oats and barley. This competition has not been held for two or three years, but owing to the fact that the area devoted to grain in the district this year is away more than ever before, it was felt that it would be well to encourage good cultivation in this way if satisfactory arrangements can be made.—Lodge Representative.

Mrs. Henry Meyer, aged 50, and two of her sons, Henry and Conrad, aged 22 and 21 respectively, are in the R.N.W.M.P. barracks in this city, charged with the murder of Henry Meyer, aged 51, husband of father, on their farm near Jukins, 150 miles west of Edmonton. If the statement made by the youngest son, Conrad, aged 21, is true, the crime was committed by the eldest son and the eldest son is true, a crime of this kind in the history of this province has been committed.—Bulletin.

Don't Allow Your Bowels To Become Constipated.

If the truth was only known you would find that over one half of the ill of life are caused by allowing the bowels to get into a constipated condition. When the bowels become constipated the stomach gets out of order, the liver does not work properly, and then follow the violent sick headaches, the sourness of the stomach, belching of wind, heart burn, water brash, biliousness, and a general feeling that you do not care to do anything.

Keep your bowels regular by using Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills. They will clear away all the excess matter which collects in the system and make you think that "life is worth living."

Mrs. Hans M. Kuehn, Wakefield, Que., writes: "For several years I was troubled with sour stomach and biliousness and did not get relief until I used Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills. I had only taken them two weeks when my troubles were quite gone, and I will recommend them to all suffering as I did."

Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills are 25c per box, 5 for $1.00. They are sold by all dealers, or will be mailed on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SUMMER SCHOOL FOR THE TEACHERS

The policy of the department of education regarding the development of instruction in the practical arts and in science and agriculture involves (a) financial aid to the local school boards to enable them to provide the necessary equipment and facilities (b) financial recognition for the teachers who receive the necessary qualifications and carry on the work in their school (c) provision of opportunities whereby the teachers of the province may have an equal chance to extend their training to an extent sufficient to enable them to do the additional work necessarily required at the same time conserving the best standards for the work of the school as a whole.

During the past two summers this Summer School for teachers, held under the direction of the department of education at the University of Alberta, has provided this opportunity. In 1913, eighty teachers took advantage of the courses offered. In 1914, one hundred and fifty five teachers attended. The same year a series of courses was organized for the school inspectors to enable them to co-operate with the teachers in the field in the development of the work.

The announcement giving full particulars regarding the Summer School for 1915 is now being sent to all the teachers in the province. A copy has been received at this office. It is evident from the announcement that the department of education is making the Summer School an effective instrument for the stimulation and supplementary training of the teachers. Provision is made for the admission of at least three hundred teachers. The service of over twenty specialists have been engaged for instruction purposes. Over one hundred and fifty teachers have applied already for admission.

This year the organization of the courses of instruction has been elaborated so as to be in harmony with the regulations regarding instruction in the special subjects as indicated in the Technical Education Bulletin, No. 1, issued last November. A series of courses, in each case involving two weeks of work, is offered leading to a special elementary certificate in:

(a) Science, Agriculture, Gardening, and Natural Study.
(b) Household Arts, Household Science, Management and Art.
(c) Art, Art Methods, Designing, Drawing and Painting.
(d) Manual Training, Paper and Cardboard Work, Textile and Basket Work, Clay Modeling and Penmanship.
(e) Woodwork, Showwork, Designs and mechanical drawing.
(f) Physical Training, Strathcona Drill, Organized Play, Musical Games and Folk Dancing.

This year, for the first time, a special series of courses will be offered for those teachers who are desirous of teaching science and agriculture in the high schools. While a number of those responsible for the instruction in these subjects are specialists, the great majority in the towns and villages have not specialized in their science or agriculture in their college course. These teachers find themselves distinctly at a disadvantage in approaching these subjects especially from the practical side.

The courses offered involve (a) a double course in agriculture for one summer for those who are science specialists, (b) a group of courses involving two summers' work for those who are not science specialists. The first summer's work will be devoted to agriculture and gardening, methods in science and methods in agriculture. The second summer to agriculture, including experimental plot work, methods in physics and methods in chemistry.

This year a secretary under the chairmanship of the director of the summer school, jointly organized for the high school teachers and agricultural instructors for the careful consideration of the general provisions of instruction in science and agriculture in secondary schools.

ON LAYING EGGS

Laying eggs is the only talent the hen possesses. The hen is not handsome and is one of the world's forgotten singers. She has no education and produces the poorest grade of thoughts turned up by any brain, large or small. A hen is a stupid creature, ignorant of the value of a straight ticket to elections and goodness knows that elections need brain power than anything else on earth. She has just one talent—she lays the best eggs there are. Many people with only one talent sell their lives away in gloom and decline to become useful to the human race. But the hen isn't built on this style. She uses her talent. Early and late, year in and year out, she lays eggs, putting all the fervor and enthusiasm of her being into the process. By doing so, she has become one of our most valued citizens and is regarded with great affection, especially when fried with cream gravy.

Man screeches with pride because he builds half a million automobiles a year. But the modest hen with her one talent makes the automobile business look like a few rusty nails. If the automobile were to disappear tomorrow man would mourn and become exceedingly footsore. But if the hen were to suspend the publication of 44 million eggs and retire upon her reputation, earth would hardly be worth living on. The annual value of a hen's work in Canada is greater than the value of the automobile, the hog, or the hay crop.

This teaches us to appreciate our talent no matter how small it may be. Many a man with no ability except to make a very loud noise and keep it up for an hour at a time, has been for seventeen different offices and has eventually craved himself into parliament by the vote of a weary people who couldn't get out of listening him in any other way. The hen teaches us one more lesson. She reserves all her bragging about her eggs until after they are laid. Man is not nearly this wise. He is forever figuring up the combined output of 150 hens—for next year—and buying poultry farms based on over-confidence and a few errors in multiplication.

SOLLOQUIES OF THE DEVEL

I tied a galley her the other d-y,
Before the 'locom' paper went to press;
I placed the meal, thing up right a-way,
And put it back together just by guess.

The make-up man he choiced it in the form,
The thing went through: Oh, golly what a storm!

"John Smith will sell at 20 Prospect street,
At the bride's home, on Wednesday at high noon."

An only daughter, beautiful and sweet—
With spotted feet, and coming two 'tixt June."

So help me, that's the way, thidared thing read,
I saw it and I nearly fell down dead.

That ain't the worst. The thing went on to say:
"Mike Dolan died last night at half past eight."

No fire insurance carried, so they say—Loss total, but the value was not great."

You'd ought to hear the widow tear and rave—
It makes me sick the way some skirts behave."

"A son was born to Dr. Richard Voss—
A glossy black and weight a thousand and flat."

His mother was by Danby, out of a crowd—
With gloves to match, and wore a picture hat."

The famous three three three and clawed the air;
For once he got so mad he couldn't swear."

"The Park House burned, to ashes Tuesday night.
The cause they say was softening of the brain."

The noble firemen made a gallant fight
In satin duchess, med with feline instinct."

As't that the everlasting thing, Gee!
The way the whole darned bunch jumped on to me!"

The boss he had me on the carpet, too, Gosh! I can dress a feller to the ground."

I sneaked his office feeling mighty blue,
When all of once I heard a funny sound."

The boss was all alone—"I'd give my hat,
To know just what that guy was laughing at!"

STETTLER FARMER

LOSES HIS LIFE IN BUFFALO LAKE

Stettler May 3—Henry Ellergood, a prosperous farmer, who has been a resident of the district for the past ten years, was drowned at mid-o'clock last night while fishing in Buffalo Lake.

In some manner the boat capsized, throwing Ellergood and his two companions, S. Larsen and Mr. Andrews into the water. They became entangled in the net they had out, and before they could extricate themselves Mr. Ellergood was gone out of sight.

WHAT ARE WE DOING IN WETASKIWIN?

The following recently appeared as an editorial in a Louisiana newspaper:

"The average Louisiana farmer gets up early, at the alarm of a Connecticut clock, buttons his Chicago suspenders to a pair of Detroit overalls, puts on a pair of cord shoes made in Ohio, washes in a Pittsburgh tin basin, using Cincinnati soap, and drives on a Stetson toward New Hampshire, etc. etc. down to a Grand Rapids Table, eats hot biscuits made with Minneapolis flour, Kansas City bacon and Indiana Grits fried in Omaha lard, and, on a St. Louis stove, buys Irish potatoes and canned fruit put up in California, seasoned with Rhode Island spices, daps on his old hat made in Philadelphia, puts New York harness on a Missouri mule, fed on Iowa corn, and plows his farm, covered by a Massachusetts mortgage, with an Indiana plow."

"At eight he crawls under a New Jersey blanket and is kept awake by a Louisiana dog, the only home product on the place."

"Moral—Patronize home industries. Spend your money and increase the value of the farm. This is patriotism and the highest form of patriotism."

HARD HIT BY WAR TAX

The war tax has struck the drug-gist harder than any other class of business, and it is not to be wondered at that they are strongly objecting to the tax. At first it was thought that the rich patent medicine manufacturer would pay the tax, but not so. That wily individual is not taxed at all, for the tax is only collected when the druggist sells the patent medicine. Thus the war tax is either paid by the purchaser or by the druggist and in both cases neither can afford to pay it. The imposition of the tax is so stands wrong. The tax should be levied on the manufacturer who is quite able to pay it—Exchange.

RED CROSS SOCIETY NOTES

Toronto, May 12.—The following interesting letter has been received by Mrs. Plumptre, secretary of the National service committee, from Mrs. McLaren Brown, hon. secretary of the ladies committee of the C.W.A. A. The people of Canada, who have taken a great interest in the work of the association throughout the Dominion, will read this letter with interest.

The letter which is dated London, April 21, is as follows:—"We have today finished the first week's work of unpeeling about 80 cases from Canada, most of which have come through your Halifax office."

"Colonel Ryerson has paid several visits to the Ladies' committee of the association, and I, I think, attested that we at our end are doing our best to finish worthily the work which is begun and carried through at your end."

"As you know, the British war office has now requested that only the socks and handkerchiefs be forwarded to the troops at the front. The warm weather coming on, and the prospect of the terrible 'trush' lice coming, to say the least, it is necessary to supply supplementary garments in such quantities. But socks and handkerchiefs we still need and shall continue to need week by week so long as the war lasts. All over the United Kingdom the various societies for sending comforts to the front are busily engaged in stepping up the swollen quantities so that the work obtained can be converted into socks."

"It sounds rather terrible that the result of so much time and labor is thus ruthlessly pulled to pieces, but wool is scarce and dear. Body belts, sweaters and helmets will not be in need for many months to come and socks are needed every hour of the day. So we have fallen in line and interested ourselves in knitting for the Canadians and most generous has been the response to our call for voluntary workers."

"Every woman on the committee has her whole household busily engaged in winding wool. There is the halla are brought back here, sorted and arranged according to weight and color, then weighed out in five and ten pound lots. These we send all over the country. It is a perfectly astonishing what we are through. Of course, we have not depleted our stores entirely and the last two weeks the ladies' committee have been tremendously busy repacking for summer storage, in addition to unpacking as the goods come in."

"To keep a large emergency supply in our store room here, the garments for storage are numbered and packed in layers of tar paper and 'sifon' and sent off to our various warehouses until such time as the cold days come again. In the cases we have unpacked during the last ten days we have found a number of individual names written on cards attached to the various garments. These cards, we of course, have passed on and no doubt the recipient is doubly pleased to get a little personal message attached."

TORPEDOES FROM A GERMAN SUBMARINE SINKS LUSTANIA

London, May 7.—The Cunard liner Lusitania, which sailed out of New York on May 1 with more than 2,600 souls aboard, lies at the bottom of the ocean off the Irish coast. She was sunk by a German submarine, which sent two torpedoes crashing into her side, while the passengers, seemingly confident that the great swift vessel could elude the German undersea craft, were having lunch.

How many of the Lusitania's passengers were rescued cannot be told at present, but the official statement from the British Admiralty up to midnight accounted for not more than 500 or 600.

The Lusitania was steaming about 10 miles off the Old Head of Kinsale on the last leg of her voyage to Liverpool, when suddenly at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon a submarine suddenly appeared, and, so far as all reports go, fired two torpedoes without warning at the steamer. One struck her near the bows and the other in the engine room. The powerful agents of destruction tore through the vessels' sides, causing terrific explosions. Almost immediately great volumes of water poured through the openings and the Lusitania listed.

Boats, which were already swung out on the davits, were dropped overboard, and were immediately filled with passengers, who had been appalled by the desperate attack. A wireless call for help was sent out, and immediately rescue boats of all kinds were sent out from the neighboring points along the coast and Queenstown.

Where Great Britain's fastest merchant vessel went down—Old Head of Kinsale—is a landmark that has brought joy to travelers, as it is always stood as the sign from shore that the perils of the voyage across the Atlantic were at an end. The line whose boat it was that it had never lost a life in the Atlantic service, has now lost the ship that dodged the lurking enemy of Neptune. Yet light the day after war was declared, and later started the world by flying the Stars and Stripes.

NO ALUM

The Lusitania, with a total of 1,261 passengers aboard, of whom 185 were Americans, and with a crew of 816, sailed from New York last Saturday in the face of a warning published on the day of her departure by the German embassy, which stated that travelers intending to embark on their ships did so at the risk of the ships being destroyed in accordance with the German war zone decree.

This warning, published in this form in an advertisement did not read in the specification of a single passenger, nor did it mention any of the names of the passengers. The warning, said to have been received by some passengers just before the ship left her pier, deter anyone from sailing.

Reports from Washington, that it was privately known in official quarters that the Lusitania was to be torpedoed at the first opportunity, gave color to the opinion expressed in shipping circles tonight that the embassy's warning was to apply particularly to the Lusitania.

STATES WILL SEEK TO SHOW GERMANY HER INJUSTICE

Philadelphia, May 10.—President Wilson gave to a gathering of 4,000 naturalized Americans tonight the first intimation of the course which the United States government probably will pursue in the situation resulting from the loss of the Lusitania. He said that the United States government would remain at peace, but his harangue interpreted his remarks as meaning that while the United States would remain at peace it would seek to convince Germany of the injustice to mankind of the tragedy of last Friday.

"America," said the president, "must have the consciousness that on all sides touches its elbows and touches hearts with all the nations of mankind. The example of America must be a splendid example. And must be an example not merely of peace because it will not fight, but because peace is a healing and elevating influence of the world, and strife is not."

"There is such a thing as a man being too proud to fight. There is such a thing as being so right that it does not need to convince others by force that it is right. The president made no direct reference to the Lusitania tragedy, but the audience did not hesitate to read the application of his statement. The president pointed out that the true goal of American citizenship is loyalty not to the country of one's birth, but to the land of one's adoption."

As The Result Of A Neglected Cold He Contracted SEVERE BRONCHIAL TROUBLE

"Mr. W. T. Allen, Halifax, N.S., writes: 'I feel that I would be doing you and your great remedy, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a gross injustice if I did not write and let you know the wonderful results that I have obtained from its use.'"

"Last spring I happened to contract a cold. Of course, this is a common occurrence, and I did not make any particular notice of it at the time. However, it did not break up as quickly as I was generally used to, so after two weeks, and no sign of improvement, I went to get alarmed, and went to my local physician who informed me that I had contracted severe bronchial trouble as a result of neglecting my cold. He prescribed several bottles for me, which I took, but with no result. I was getting impatient, and was discouraged by the time one day a friend happened to be in to whom I was relating my trouble, and he advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, saying that he had obtained very beneficial results from its use in a similar case. I took his advice and procured several bottles from my druggist. After taking two bottles, according to directions, for about two days, I noticed a decided improvement, and from that day on I began to feel better. In ten days I was in my usual health. I consider this an excellent showing for your remedy, and can heartily recommend it to anyone afflicted as I was. I shall always put in a good word for it whenever the opportunity offers itself."

"You can procure Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup from my druggist or dealer. Price, 25c and 50c. The genuine is manufactured only by The T. Milliken Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

THE REVENUE QUESTION

To the Editor: When prohibition is enforced the revenue question, settles itself quite easily with a good income on the credit side. That has been the experience of Maine, Kansas, N. Dakota, Russia, Norway and in our own country, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and the many municipalities that have prohibition by local option.

The Finance Minister of Russia explains it in a very pithy manner. He says, "When we sold vodka the people were poor. The money for the drink went into the treasury, but the human machine that made that money became weaker and weaker. So the nation was ruined cutting off the revenue at its source."

"When mobilization began the doctors found all sorts of complaints unaccounted for. It was not at the end of this very short period the raw armies are of a healthier sort of men. And what is the result financially? There is money in the savings banks. If the country is a little poorer, the people are already a good deal richer. If the people are poor, we tax them without results. If they are rich we levy on them by indirect taxation as we are doing now."

"In the coal regions we have sent thirty per cent of the men to the war on yet the output of work is greater by thirty per cent because everybody is sober. I have received delegations of former drinkers and their wives and families thanking the government for their sobriety. I am asking that they continue delegations from employers all over Russia have come asking that we never again sell vodka."

"A large number of men cannot drink off drink without some help and it is cruel to tempt them with the open bar and store in the hope of helping them in their struggle."

H. ARNOTT, M.B., M.C.P.S.

A cheque for $51,138 was handed Billy Stacey, the orphaned, as his share of the profits, or earnings, of a six weeks' campaign in Philadelphia. Certainly it pays to be good. Col. Goetzlue was paid $15,000 a year to build the Panama canal. Chief Justice White of the United States supreme court, draws a $15,000 salary. Henry Ward Beecher never got more than $10,000 per annum in Plymouth church, while Lincoln got $25,000 a year for riding the United States through the civil war. However, none of these could talk slang with Billy.

WAR WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH EDMONTON EXHIBITION ASSOCIATION EVENTS

The Edmonton Exhibition Association stands in a class by itself, in that it has not permitted war conditions to interfere with any of the events put on annually at the exhibition grounds. The spring horses show came off with flying colors, a bigger success than last year.

The spring race meet on May 22, 24 and 25, promises to be as big an event as before, if not bigger. Preparations are well under way for the summer exhibition—as usual.

Though the 49th and 51st Battalions are quartered at the exhibition grounds, sufficient stables are available for the race horses, and every day sees new horses quartered there, and numbering well up to the hundred mark. The track has been kept in good condition, and from early morning until dark, the horses are working out in anticipation of the actual contest. The horses included the fastest in Western Canada and the United States, and their trainers claim that all will start at the spring race meet.

Excursion trains have been arranged on all lines of railway, and it is expected that these, with the holiday, will bring large crowds of out of town visitors to the spring race meet to supplement the throngs of Edmonton citizens who look forward to the spring race meet as something too good to be overlooked.

The Edmonton races are patterned after the Woodbine races of Toronto, and the Edmonton exhibition association are endeavoring to sustain the high standard of clean racing that has made the Woodbine famous. With this in mind the association has decided to admit all women to the grounds free, recognizing the fact that nothing tends more to raise the standard of any public gathering than the presence of women.
